

Yeahhohoree Forever

A cartoon illustration featuring three men in a car. The man in the driver's seat is wearing a red cap and a blue shirt. The man in the passenger seat is wearing a grey shirt and brown pants, with his arms raised in a celebratory gesture. The man in the back seat is wearing a grey shirt and brown pants, also with his arms raised. The car is green and has a cow head on the hood. The license plate reads "SH4E". The background is a vibrant, colorful nebula with a large black silhouette of a person with long, flowing hair or tentacles. The text "Yeahhohoree" is written in a green, jagged font with a yellow outline, and "Forever" is written in a similar font below it.

A raunchy hangout cartoon series by
JAKE ALINIKOFF & THOMAS LEIGH

Seahorses Forever is a hangout comedy about a Los Angeles-based rock band moonlighting as babysitters. The show is a throwback to cartoons of the 1970s like Scooby Doo or Josie and the Pussycats except Seahorses Forever is a raunchy stoner comedy with risqué jokes. It's Metalocalypse meets Speed Buggy coming down from an LSD trip with the Muppet Babies!

Each episode Jake, Josh (Xavior), and Scott solicit a local PTA meeting to find a babysitting job. Desperate parents with nowhere else to turn hire the Seahorses Forever to help with the problems their children are having. The Seahorses' methods are always pure of heart but their solutions to problems are... questionable at best and illegal at worst. Most of the time Jake and Josh (Xavior) bicker on the job while Scott tries to clean up their messes. In between all the babysitting hijinks, the band finds time to practice their music. (The songs of Seahorses Forever can be played during the show and serve as episode inspirations!)

Meanwhile, PTA leader Joe Pera is on a crusade to expose the Seahorses as a bunch of frauds. Joe's schemes always fail in unexpected and hilarious ways that embarrass him deeply. Joe's assistant, Gloria Igoria, a seemingly normal Lakota medicine woman, is actually a secret federal agent sent to investigate the Seahorse, a car possessed by unknown spirits. (There's a talking car, did we mention that?)

CHARACTERS

JAKE

Jake is the frontman of Seahorses Forever and he considers himself the leader of the band on and off the stage. Jake's delusions of grandeur are only matched by his quick temper. His righteous indignation creates tension wherever he goes. He wants what's best for himself and his band and by golly is he going to get his way. Jake is the one who most frequently directly comes in conflict with Joe Pera.

SCOTT

Scott is the true voice of reason within the group. Unfortunately for Scott, he is too tepid to compete with the outlandish personalities of Jake and Josh. Oh also he's a musical savant who has 7 arms and can play any instrument known to man. Just saying.

JOE PERA

Beneath Joe's sleepy, slow talking demeanor is the heart of a ruthless leader. Joe wants to rule the PTA with an iron fist. He will stop at nothing in his pursuit to stop Seahorses Forever.

JOSH (XAVIOR)

Josh is the wild child of the group with literal demons inside him that he keeps at bay by using a plethora of drugs. He's a force of nature, pure id. But deep down, past Josh's demons, there is ultimately a sweet person who is generally happy and just wants to have a good time. At the end of the first season, Josh gets sober and becomes a monk-like prophet after being sent to rehab.

THE SEAHEARSE

The Seahearse is the band's car that speaks a dark tongue no one can understand. It is possessed by an evil empress' spirit from 12,000 years ago that got trapped in the car's muffler. The Seahearse is like the Mystery Machine as imagined by H.P. Lovecraft.

GLORIA IGORIA

Gloria is a gruff, tough talking woman with a heavy Brooklyn accent like Debi Mazar. She has been forced into her position as a secret agent and wearily carries out her duties to gather intel.

SETTINGS

WAREHOUSE: The warehouse is the main hangout spot for the band. It's where they practice music, smoke weed, plan schemes, smoke weed, fight, make up, and smoke weed.

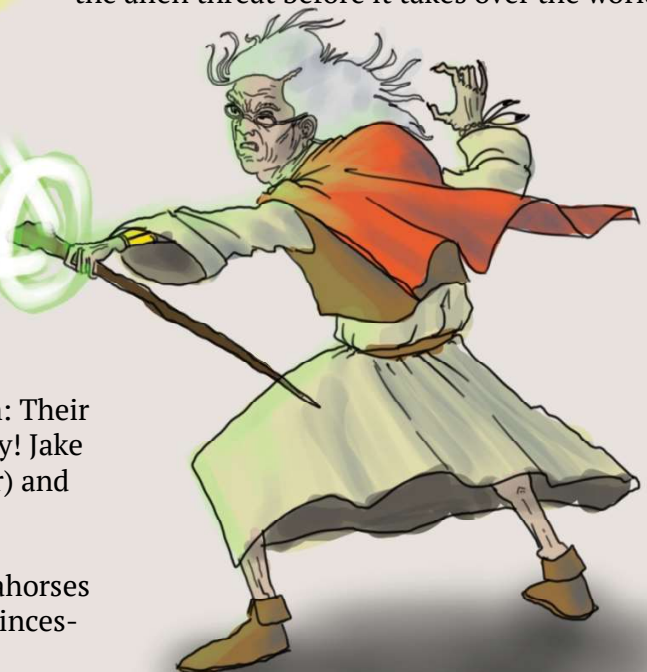

JOE'S OFFICE: Joe spends a lot of time in his office that also doubles as a secret villain lair. This is where he stews with anger and monologues to himself.

CLIENTS' HOUSES: This is where the show takes a truly fantastic turn. The client's houses can be anything: volcanoes, spaceships, underwater cities, cyberpunk condos, fairytale cottages, or anything in between!

FUTURE EPISODES

THE STOWAWAY: The Seahorses are contracted by a family of astronauts to babysit their son. The band discovers that an alien secretly traveled back to Earth with the family. Now they must contain the alien threat before it takes over the world!

THE ACTRESS: A family hires the band for a most unusual problem: Their twenty-something daughter thinks she is character actor Gary Busey! Jake and the daughter start a torrid romantic courtship. Can Josh (Xavior) and Scott break the spell and return the daughter to normal?

THE BEARS: The Bears from Goldilocks and the Three Bears hire Seahorses Forever to help their child's insomnia. Meanwhile Goldilocks keeps incessantly ringing the door to sign various environmental petitions.
